

Glynn Jones Scholarships
For Business & Management Education

- 1 Applications are invited for the above Scholarships which are for Downing members wishing to further their education for careers in the business and management field.
- 2 Downing members will be taken to mean those who have studied for an undergraduate or postgraduate degree at Cambridge University as members of the College.
- 3 Scholarships will normally only be awarded to those Downing members who will have fulfilled the requirements for an undergraduate or postgraduate degree by the start date of the course for which the awards are made.
- 4 The scholarships will normally only be available to cover the cost or part-cost of courses of not more than two years' duration.
- 5 The scholarships are available for courses offered at Cambridge University as well as other institutions in this country or abroad.
- 6 The number of scholarships offered in any given year shall not exceed that which can be funded from the annual income of the fund.
- 7 The scholarships shall be advertised internally within the College and to members out of residence via the Association Newsletter.
- 8 The value of the scholarships will be linked to the course fees, travel costs and maintenance expenses associated with the course for which the scholarship is awarded.
- 9 The value of the scholarships will be means tested and such means testing will take into account the financial resources of the applicants. It will also take into account any other scholarships or bursaries awarded to the applicant or for which applications are pending or for which the applicant for a Glynn Jones scholarship may be eligible to apply.
- 10 Applications for scholarships for courses beginning not earlier than the September of any given calendar year must be received not later than 2 June of that calendar year, although later applications may sometimes be considered if sufficient funds remain unallocated.
- 11 The courses for which applications for scholarships will normally be entertained are those which will help to equip the applicants for successful careers in management or business. Such courses will most often be specifically designed management training courses leading to the MBA or a qualification of equivalent standing, but those applying for any one or two year postgraduate course with a high management or business training content will also be considered for scholarships.
